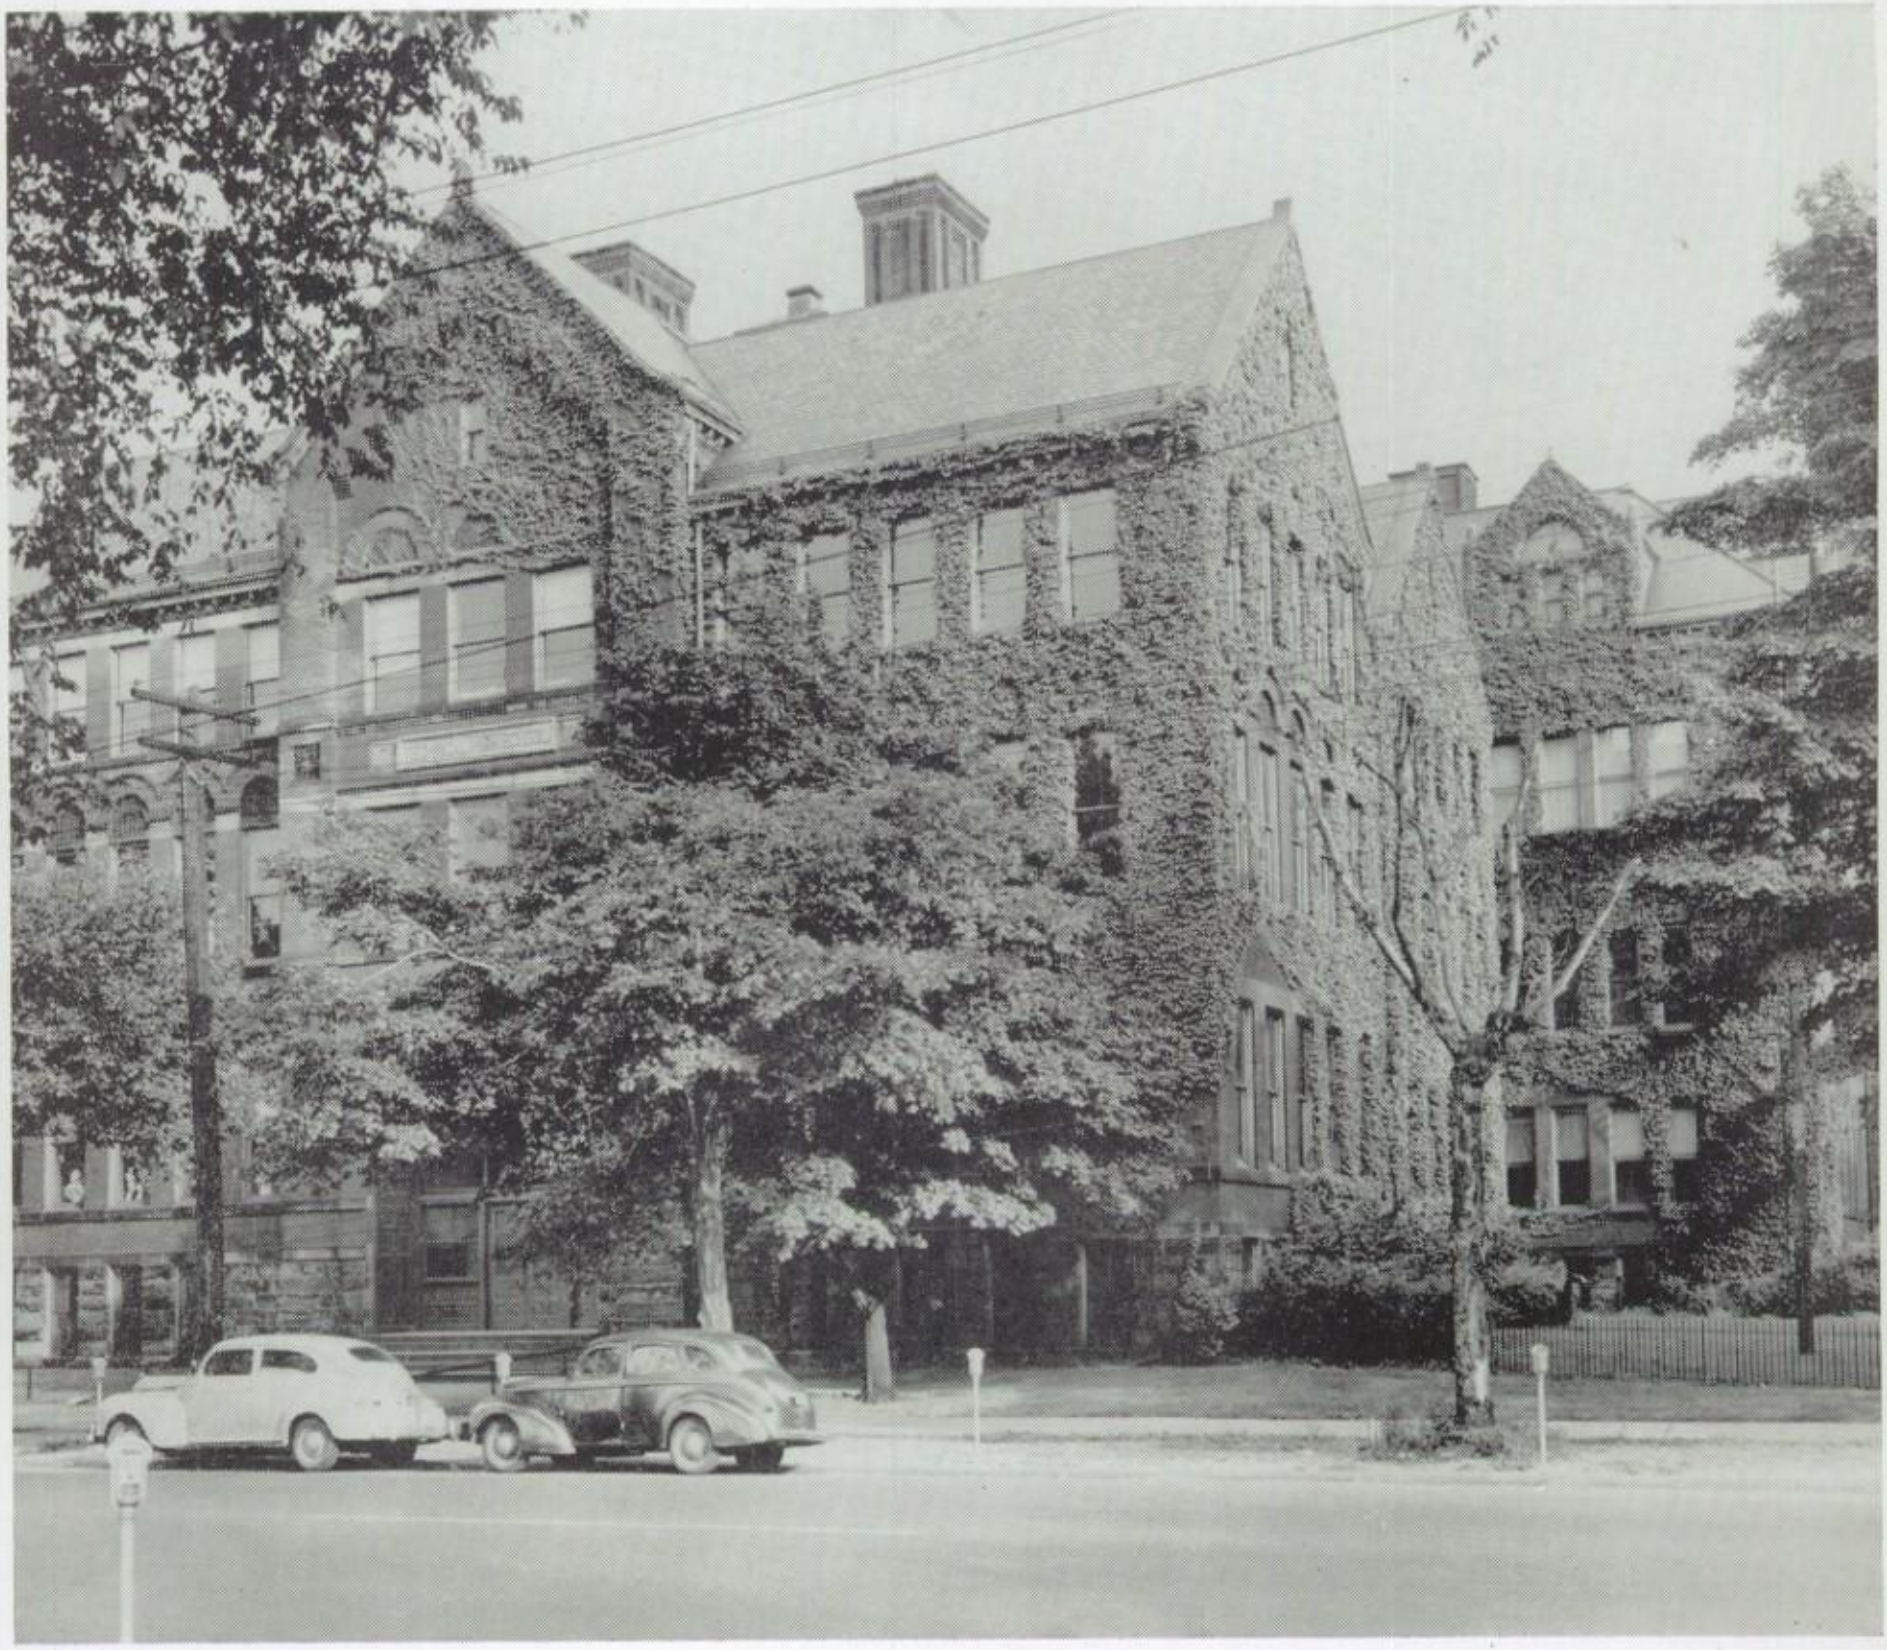
The Torch

OF

Erie Technical High School

1955 - 1956



PROGRESS

SINCE THE END OF THE 1956 SCHOOL TERM, PARADOXICALLY, MARKS THE BEGINNING OF THE TRANSITION FROM THE OLD TO THE NEW, THE STAFF CHOSE A FUTURISTIC TYPE OF THEME, ONE SYMBOLIZING ERIE'S PROGRESS IN VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AS ITS CENTER OF OPERATION IS MOVED FROM THE OLD BUILDING TO THE NEW SITE ON UPPER PEACH STREET.

FRESHMEN SYMBOLIZE ERIE'S NEW VOCATIONAL SCHOOL IN THE BLUEPRINT STAGE. SOPHOMORES REPRESENT THE GROUND-BREAKING AND EXCAVATION PHASE. JUNIORS DEPICT THE RISE OF THE STEEL-RIBBED FRAMEWORK. SENIORS ARE THE EPITOME OF THE BUILDING AS IT STANDS RESPLENDENT AND COMPLETED.

DEDICATION

We of the 1956 Senior Class co-dedicate this year's publication of the Torch to Mr. Buto for his never ending interest in the many activities which made our days at Tech both profitable and happy. His smile and friendly manner have become synonomous with Technical High School.

We also dedicate the 1956 publication of the Torch to Mr. Ungerman who gave generously of his time and interest to make our days at Tech rich in learning and abundant in fun. His understanding smile and determination to be a good teacher will be remembered by all.

Administration

MR. FRANK ANTHONY

TO THE SENIOR CLASS:

We in education are not unlike the men who go out to the fields and plant seeds in the soil. It is our faith that we shall be favored with a season rich in fruition.

Having witnessed the 1956 Senior Class manifest its excellence repeatedly and in various ways, I say the harvest has indeed been bountiful.

Sincerely,
MR. FRANK ANTHONY

Mr. JOHN WARD

Congratulations to you members of the 1956 graduating class for having achieved one of your fondest goals. May your high school diploma be but a stepping-stone in the continuous process of education and training.

Last Will and Testament

We, the members of the 1956 graduating class of Erie Technical High School, do hereby leave our Last Will and Testament to you, the underclassmen and the faculty:

Shops:

Ray Danowski leaves his knowledge of drafting to Dave Dennington; Ken Kinzig leaves his friendship with Mr. Daley to Tony Cenfetelli; Lee Krystek leaves all his A's in drafting to Tony Dombrowski; Mike Patalita leaves his ability and drafting genius to John Laskowski; Art Rathmann leaves his T-square and pencils to Jim Jaycox; Bill Samluk leaves his broken T-square to Rich Donakowski; Remle Smith leaves Bev to help Marie; Ron Szymanski leaves his skill in drafting to anyone that needs it; and Joe Wisniewski leaves his pencil to Tony Cenfetelli, even though it's busted.

Charlie Harrison leaves all of his sawdust to Ed Wheeler; Kenny Pierce leaves all his headaches in Pattern Making to Frank Kupneski; Ron Snider leaves to Tom Pius their dear friend, Mr. McGraw; Joe Visosky leaves his stool to Tom Pius; and Bob Wicks leaves his tools and bench to Mike Winseck.

Jim Berchtold leaves Mr. Jones to the sophomores; Dave Martinucci leaves all the chips in Shop 5 to the chief; Al Paris leaves all his troubles in shop to Nick Brigante; and Don Rzepka leaves his bench drawer to Jack Ruland.

Jim Turner gets both Franklin Kemp's chair and Dan Wedzikowski's house wiring plans; Karl Klaus leaves his old electrical test papers to anyone who is crazy enough to want them; and Del Smith leaves his shop textbook to some unsuspecting victim.

Pete Benoit says someone can take over his little press in the corner; Ed Wasielewski leaves his space at the mirror to Whitey Cleaver; and Ed Malinowski leaves No. 4 press to Wordanski.

Butch Gebhart leaves his ability to drop transmissions to anyone that has the money; Rolf Pedersen leaves his two seats in theory to Ray Mergler; and Don Szewczyk leaves his auto theory knowledge to an up and coming theory man.

Lois Lancaster leaves her talent for slopping paint around to haunt Mr. Plavcan; Cindy Thayer leaves her place in Art to Jean Curtze; and John Toth leaves his architectural knowledge to Ray Price.

Brad Jones leaves his unfinished shop projects to Henry Woodworth; Dick Rosenthal leaves his sheetmetal tools to some lucky student; and Ed Wierzchowski leaves his tool box to anyone that wants it.

Sports:

Tony Arnone leaves his football sweat socks to Frank Ferrare; Mickey Brady and Bugs DeRaimo both leave their positions to anyone who can do the job; Tony Nunes leaves the quarterback slot to Tom Sapienza; and Pedro Spampani leaves the guard position to Ed Onorato.

Don Adamaszek leaves his orange trunks to Tom Hohay for wrestling next year; Terry Litz leaves his wrestling speed and ability to Tom Skarupski; and Burke Stanger leaves his wrestling skill to Leonard Andrewskefski.

Don Chludzinski leaves to Emidio Felix the hope he'll use his head in sports; Paul Yoculan leaves his sneakers to Vince Boni; Ray Kovalesky leaves his basketball jersey to Frank Ferrare; and Jack McElroy just leaves his basketball sneakers.

Tony Chrzanowski leaves his Cross Country shoes to his brother, Don; Kenny Mrozowski leaves his shin-splint to Howie Kemp; and Jerry Miller leaves the managing and assistant coaching of the water polo team to Alan Marshall.

John Deckard leaves his perfect golf swing to Ted McElory; Dave Hager leaves his ability in the 440 to Water Litz; and Gene Stankiewicz leaves his high jump stands to anyone who wants them.

Classes:

Ron Brzezinski leaves his beating troubles on the bass drum to "Wendy;" Dave Janowsky leaves all his sour notes to Ruffe; and Fred Mentley leaves his drum and sticks to Louie Kertesty.

Bob Dougherty leaves his geometry book to Loretta Gregory; Ev Falconer leaves her Physics book and seat to Lenny Kisnel; Dick Fisher leaves his seat in Mr. Sherman's to Jim Irwin; and Frank Robasky leaves his brilliance in trig to Max Bilietnikoff.

Around School:

Al Baginski leaves his 4 reserved lockers to Rich Donakowski; Pat Benner leaves her talent for getting caught all the time to Valery Anderson; Jim Bray leaves his privilege passes; Ernie Brown leaves his place in cafeteria to Hank Sienkiewicz; Earl Hersperger leaves his parking place in front of school to Ray Ricke; John Madras leaves his seat in auditorium to Jim Ruthland; Deanna Moore leaves her talent for getting out of hot water to Kathy Corbran; Dave Pollock leaves his locker to the school; Gerry Rzepecki leaves his lockers to anyone who can stand the smell; Jan Smingler leaves the yearbook as her job of the year; Larry Srnka leaves his locker to Dave Hale; Dan Tomko leaves the job of moving the piano to the boys on stage crew; Myrna Tuk leaves Erie and her ability to get mixed up in too many things at once to Janet Kessler; and Chuck Zukowski leaves his unpaid graduation bill to Eddie Kaczprowicz.

Personal:

Gary Calabrese leaves some of his hair to Gabe Morettini; Lars Christenson leaves his brains to Bill Podgorney; Fred Dale leaves his big head to Len Dombrowski; Rich Deniziak leaves the rest of his talent to Vic DeSantis; Charles Hunter leaves his brains to Bill Ball; Ray Lipinski leaves to Jim Jaycox his beard and shaving ability; Norm Mattson leaves his instigating powers to Roger Baker; Niel Murphy would leave his curly hair to Charles Wiese but he doesn't have any; Tom Rouen leaves his nickname "Turtle" to Frank Ferrare; Nickie Salvatore leaves the juniors his ingenuity; and Don Schnieder leaves his brains to his brother Jim.

Outside school:

John Dombrowski leaves Koschiske Park cans to all the east siders; Dave Gusky leaves his safe driving habits to Roger Baker; Walt Kuligowski leaves all his parking tickets to Zimmer; Don Levis leaves his seat at Milly's to Jerry Greiger; Bob McGurn leaves his parking space to Marty Raid; Bob Reisenweber leaves his seat in Milly's to anyone that picks up the bill; and Robert Scholl leaves all of his money problems to his pal Darwin.

Girls:

Dick Birk leaves his ability to attract redheads to Joe Kelly; Bob Hammond leaves his fond thoughts to some boy who may by some chance like girls; Ernie Kisiel leaves his ability to attract girls to his shy brother Len; Tim Skarupski (as the receiver of Zimmer's shouts) leaves Pat Young, but not for long.

On leaving:

Joe Markiewicz just leaves the school; Ray Ostrowski would like to leave period; and Paul Pawlak leaves with a smile on his face and a diploma in his hand, he hopes.

Equipment:

Rich Dudzinski leaves his shoes to Tiny Pius; Dave Ebisch leaves his 3-corner scraper to Little McElory; and Leo Geiger leaves his entire estate (old P.O.D. notebook, 20 pencils ½" long, a pair of worn out sneakers) to Ray Szoszorek.

Food:

Charles Becker leaves his coffee breaks to Bill Ball; and John Dornhoefer leaves all of his gum stuck to the desks to Jim Szymanowski.

Poems: ?

Norb Lijewski:

I leave these crumbling walls
And soon empty halls
To Sonny Laskowski
Who hopes to graduate
From the new Tech High.

Eve Owen best expresses what we all feel. She leaves her heart to Tech and the hope that we win back The Little Brown Jug, soon.
